

Attending a Drop In Screening Clinic

Families attend a Drop In Screening Clinic having been signposted by Health visitors, GPs, nursery staff and Childrens Centre staff or having accessed dates via the service website

Parents have an opportunity to discuss their concerns with a therapist. The therapist completes the screening through observation, play and informal assessment.

Your child may not require direct support from the service at this time. The therapist will be able to signpost you to local support and provide you with advice.

Your child's setting may benefit from training and advice to help them to continue to support your child.

You may be invited to a Parent Workshop or therapy to help you support your child. After this the episode of care will be ended so that you can continue to embed supportive strategies.

The therapist may set up a programme of specific activities for you and your child's setting. After this the episode of care will be ended so that you can continue to embed supportive strategies.
